

THURSDAY MARCH 21ST
AFTERNOON

1:00 Presentation Stations

ROOM/ STATION	1-1:20	1:25- 1:45	1:50-2:10
A1	A1a The breastfeeding Experience of Quebec (Canada) mothers using BFI and non BFI health services: influence on mothers and community (Danielle Groleau et al)	A1b The breastfeeding Experience of Quebec (Canada) mothers using BFI and non BFI health services: influence on mothers and community (Danielle Groleau et al)
A2		A2b Expectant Moms Respond to Risk and Benefit Language in Breastfeeding Promotion (Lora E Wallace & Erin N Taylor)	A2c Expectant Moms Respond to Risk and Benefit Language in Breastfeeding Promotion (Lora E Wallace & Erin N Taylor)
A3	A3a Chasing the Theory: Operationalizing Social influences on Breastfeeding (Sheryl Wallin Abrahams)		A3c Chasing the Theory: Operationalizing Social influences on Breastfeeding (Sheryl Wallin Abrahams)
B1	B1a The Challenge of Nighttime Breastfeeding in the U.S. (Cecilia Tomori)	B1b The Challenge of Nighttime Breastfeeding in the U.S. (Cecilia Tomori)
B2		B2b The Role of Growth Pattern Interpretations on Women’s Breastfeeding Decisions in the U.S. (Ghada Khan)	B2c The Role of Growth Pattern Interpretations on Women’s Breastfeeding Decisions in the U.S. (Ghada Khan)
B3	B3a Brown Mamas Breastfeed: An analysis of African American Women’s Breastfeeding Experiences Shared Through an On-line Blog (Tyra Gross)		B3c Brown Mamas Breastfeed: An analysis of African American Women’s Breastfeeding Experiences Shared Through an On-line Blog (Tyra Gross)
C1	C1a When lactation consultants dream there’s an open chair at the table: lactation consultants talk about their role in the village (Erica Anstey)	C1b When lactation consultants dream there’s an open chair at the table: lactation consultants talk about their role in the village (Erica Anstey)
C2		C2b Associations between frequency of contact and exclusive breastfeeding rates in USAID’s Child Survival and Health grants program (Debra Prosnitz et al)	C2c Associations between frequency of contact and exclusive breastfeeding rates in USAID’s Child Survival and Health grants program (Debra Prosnitz et al)
C3	C3a Redefining the Village: Practicing Black Breastfeeding Support via a Black Feminist Framework (Acquanda Stanford)		C3c Redefining the Village: Practicing Black Breastfeeding Support via a Black Feminist Framework (Aquanda Stanford)

Friday March 22nd
Afternoon

1:15 Presentation Stations

ROOM/ STATION	1:15-1:35	1:40-2:00	2:05-2:25
A4	A4a We just have one this one brochure (by Enfamil): Exploring breastfeeding resources and agenda setting in health care settings (Katherine Foss)	A4b We just have one this one brochure (by Enfamil): Exploring breastfeeding resources and agenda setting in health care settings (Katherine Foss)
A5		A5b African American Women and the “Good Mother” (Taylor Livingston)	A5c African American Women and the “Good Mother” (Taylor Livingston)
A6	A6a The Transformative Power of Maternal Child Health: Lactation Consulting Education (Anna Blair et al)		A6c The Transformative Power of Maternal Child Health: Lactation Consulting Education (Anna Blair et al)
B4	B4a Growing Breastfeeding Advocates Among the Next Generation of Nurses (Jane Grassley)	B4b Growing Breastfeeding Advocates Among the Next Generation of Nurses (Jane Grassley)
B5		B5b The Challenge of Late Preterm Birth on Realizing Breastfeeding Intentions (Kristin Tully)	B5c The Challenge of Late Preterm Birth on Realizing Breastfeeding Intentions (Kristin Tully)
B6	B6a Development of Indicators to Evaluate Utilization of Worksite Breastfeeding Supportive Policies, Benefits and Environments (Amy Meador, et al)		B6c Development of Indicators to Evaluate Utilization of Worksite Breastfeeding Supportive Policies, Benefits and Environments (Amy Meador, et al)
C4	C4a The Village Learning Center: A model for Nurturing, Growing, and Supporting a Community that Breastfeeds (Amanda Hardy et al)	C4b The Village Learning Center: A model for Nurturing, Growing, and Supporting a Community that Breastfeeds (Amanda Hardy et al)
C5		C5b Establishing an Employee Lactation Program in a Large Municipal Health Agency (Tamisha Johnson et al)	C5c Establishing an Employee Lactation Program in a Large Municipal Health Agency (Tamisha Johnson et al)
C6	C6a Breastfeeding as Operational Metaphor: Exploring the Possibilities for Greater Intersubjectivity in Community Research (Heather Curry)		C6c Breastfeeding as Operational Metaphor: Exploring the Possibilities for Greater Intersubjectivity in Community Research (Heather Curry)

