

Sample Community Standards Policy

<https://drive.google.com/file/d/0B6Mp25FP2Hw2N2VpVk9sb0Rib0E/view?usp=sharing>

<https://www.facebook.com/notes/kellymomcom/kellymom-breastfeeding-support-page-community-guidelines/10153752588165206>

<https://www.facebook.com/groups/TheLeakyBoobCommunity/permalink/1589288174681461/>

https://docs.google.com/document/d/1p6Egdyp3-Mf6jGoYeL_gV-Sfj0oq1HQF6LVie_zwp8k/edit

Equity resources

<http://www.odec.umd.edu/CD/UNIVERSAL%20READINGS/THAYER.pdf>

www.racialequitytools.org

<https://www.psychologytoday.com/blog/microaggressions-in-everyday-life/201010/racial-microaggressions-in-everyday-life>

<http://lgbtqpn.ca/wp-content/uploads/2015/02/Tips-for-Transgender-Breastfeeders-and-Their-Lactation-Educators-3.pdf>

Suggested Sources for Content

<https://www.mom2momglobal.org/breastfeeding-links>

Facebook Reactions

“Like” is an acknowledgment, like a silent head nod

“Love” is an enthusiastic support or agreement

“Haha” is laughter

“Wow” can express outrage, disbelief, fear (negative) or amazement (positive)

“Sad” can mean sadness, but it can also be any expression of tears—joy, poignancy, nostalgia, bittersweet

“Angry” means anger, outrage, fury, often in solidarity with the poster